Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

Grade 3-4-Beyer cranks up the suspense in this terse account of the ill-fated Apollo mission, setting the stage with a look at its ominous numerology (it was the 13th mission in the program, set to take off at 13:13 military time, etc.) and unsettlingly sudden crew changes. He describes the crippling midflight explosion and each challenge that had to be met to get that crew safely home. The short sentences, specific but not heavily technical detail, and vivid language-the astronauts "had 15 minutes to get Aquarius up and running before Odyssey shut down and died. They knew their spacecraft would become their coffin if they didn't make every second count"-will keep both underachieving and younger readers riveted. The small, dark, sometimes blurry black-and-white and color photos are no asset, but at least some of the three books and four Web sites listed at the end may lead to better visuals. Point readers who develop an interest in extraterrestrial disasters from this episode to Michael Cole's Space Emergency: Astronauts in Danger (Enslow, 2000) or any of the plethora of titles on the Challenger tragedy.

From reader reviews:

Ellen Jorge:

Playing with family in the park, coming to see the water world or hanging out with good friends is thing that usually you could have done when you have spare time, then why you don't try factor that really opposite from that. Just one activity that make you not experience tired but still relaxing, trilling like on roller coaster you are ride on and with addition info. Even you love Crisis in Space: Apollo 13 (High Interest Books), you are able to enjoy both. It is fine combination right, you still need to miss it? What kind of hangout type is it? Oh occur its mind hangout guys. What? Still don't have it, oh come on its referred to as reading friends.

George Bolin:

Are you kind of occupied person, only have 10 or maybe 15 minute in your day time to upgrading your mind skill or thinking skill perhaps analytical thinking? Then you are experiencing problem with the book as compared to can satisfy your small amount of time to read it because all of this time you only find e-book that need more time to be study. Crisis in Space: Apollo 13 (High Interest Books) can be your answer given it can be read by an individual who have those short extra time problems.

Jennifer Meeks:

As a college student exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library in order to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's spirit or real their hobby. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this time, many ways to get whatever we really wish for. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Crisis in Space: Apollo 13 (High Interest Books) can make you feel more interested to read.

Margaret Holt:

Reading a book make you to get more knowledge from that. You can take knowledge and information from the book. Book is published or printed or highlighted from each source which filled update of news. On this modern era like currently, many ways to get information are available for you. From media social such as newspaper, magazines, science publication, encyclopedia, reference book, book and comic. You can add your understanding by that book. Are you ready to spend your spare time to open your book? Or just in search of the Crisis in Space: Apollo 13 (High Interest Books) when you desired it?
